Best Wishes from the Yearbook Staff

Together
Not long ago
We were strangers
In our own silent worlds
Afraid to make contact.
Not knowing much about one another
We all had one dream in common
To succeed and be the very best.
We never thought of ourselves
As being better than others,
Just brighter
With goals in mind.
Our worlds joined together as one.
As one we hurried the time,
The time to reach for the year "89".
Together we stand united as one.
Hoping, dreaming, remembering
The best is yet to come.

Fashion show held in November

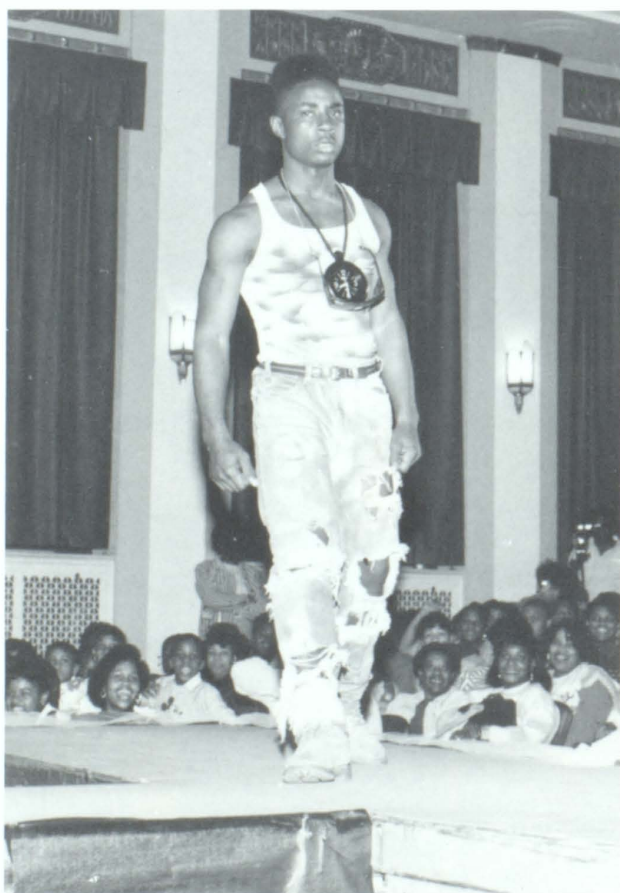

On the evening of November 18, 1988, Arts High School's Class of 1989 held a fantastic fashion show. As the curtains opened, the dynamic group Esteem dazzled the audience with an array of song and dance. The group was comprised of Arts High School members. Ms. Spearman, the moderator for the opening scenes, enlightened the audience with her informative remarks.

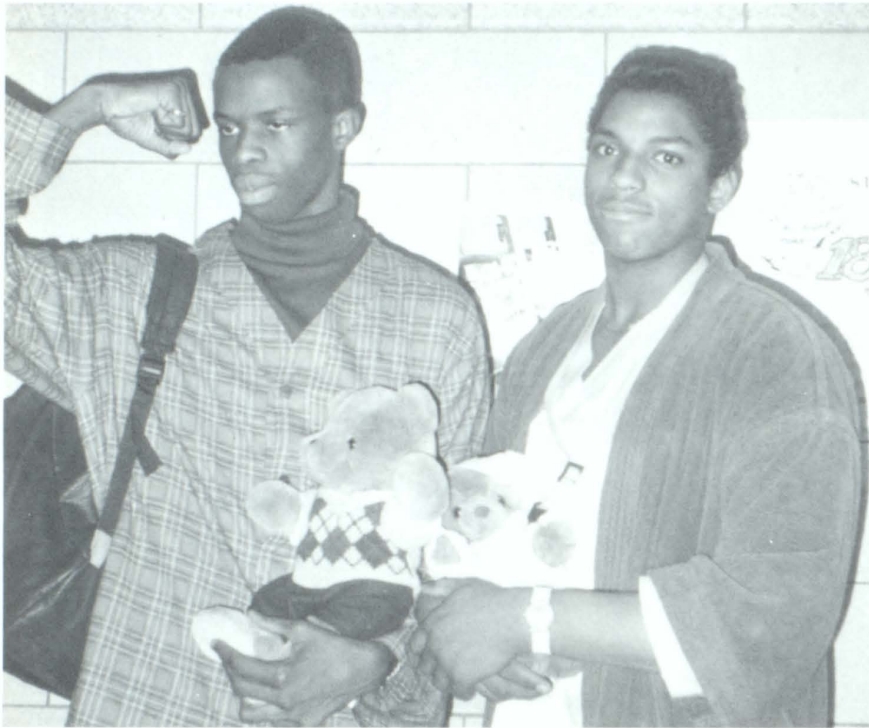

The show consisted of six scenes, entitled, "Just Be You", "Nine to Five", "Doing It In Red", "Topping It Off", and "Night Lights". In all the scenes the models glimmered in the limelight with clothing fabrics ranging from leather, suede, silks, satins, velvets to sequin designs. Vida Crawford, the second moderator also did an excellent job. This was a fantastic and memorable night.

"Tell me that you love me, Junie Moon" was presented with great success.

"Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon" by M. Kellogg portrayed the shattered lives of three disabled youngsters. The play showed how one can seem different on the outside, but on the inside still feel pain, and love.

Rave reviews were received from Mr. Otero and various members of the staff. The cast was very appreciative towards their teacher and friend, Mrs. Sherry Long-Abeson.

The talented and sensitive cast included Marlene Thomas, Shanita Best, Develynne Camack, Edward Johnson, Leatrice Lynn, Courtney Morrison, Savonna Smith, Arthur Solomon and Turhan Welch.

The production was directed by Mrs. Long-Abeson, with assistance by Ms. Lori Delaney.

RETROSPECTIVE

MY THANKS

People everywhere in Life
 From every walk and station,
 From every town and city
 And every state and nation
 Have given me so many things
 Intangible and dear,
 I couldn't begin to count them clear
 I only know I owe so much
 To people everywhere
 And when I put my thoughts in verse
 It's just a way to share
 The musings of a thankful heart,
 A heart much like your own,
 For nothing that I think or write
 Is mine and mine alone
 So if you found some beauty
 In any word or line
 It's just "Your Soul's Reflection"
 In "Proximity with mine. "

JAMES SMITH

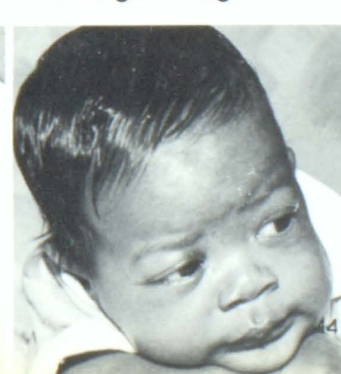

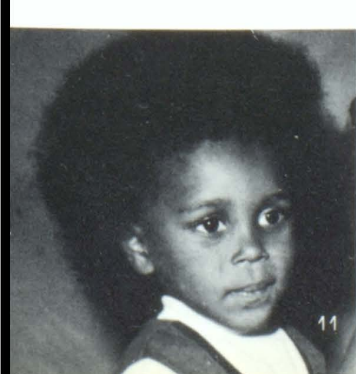

RETROSPECTIVE

We look back
On the past
With smiles
On our faces
Remembering the times
The people
And all the nice places
Understanding that we can
Never see yesterday again
We cherish the thoughts
Preserve and sustain
Until some traveling device
Can take us
To the past
Memories and retrospection
Are all
That we have.

It is like
Being born into a family,
When everyone,
And everything
Is new to you
You adjust gradually
Only to find
That it is only the beginning
So you crawl along
To the next phase
Finding more and more
About your family.
Knowing
That they will always be there.

RETROSPECTIVE

Through the years
We've learned so much,
About education,
Life, and such,
But looking beyond the books,
I find
A learning of a special kind
The knowledge, respect,
And friendship
Among each other,
The class of eight-nine
Forever may we stay together
Though the time has come
For us to move on,
And go our separate ways,
The memories we have
Will always be
Of our high school days.

When I turned the corner I noticed things changed
Somewhat subtle before, now it's grand.
Like God sculpting the city with his hands.
While colors and forms have all been rearranged
Watching it happen so suddenly was strange
Works such as could be done by no man
Marvelling as they fell, it was hard to stand
So I took a look from a different range.
Leaves are like most normal human beings
They are born, awaken and bloom into life
I wondered if they had some feelings
Or ever played with emotional strife.
I soon realized they'd never have these dealings
Because leaves are made to beautify life.

RETROSPECTIVE

Where does the time go?
 So short the past years.
 Saying goodbye to our friends,
 Shedding so many tears.
 We have to approach the real world,
 And not show our fears.
 No matter how hard it seems,
 Or how harsh the world appears.
 Just keep the memories of what we've gained,
 To show that we have comforted each other
 Through anger, sorrow, and pain.
 Not once were we lacking in unity,
 But we were once a great symbol of beauty.
 Our dignity will stay as long as we feel
 The friendship and closeness we've had
 Were all real.

Retrospective

As I look back through the years, it does not seem as though it was that long ago. What I remember most are the good times I have shared with my many friends and teachers. Looking back at Arts High, I see a small family in a world of its own. We all did not talk together but we all sang together. My four years here each had its share of ups and downs but I grew through each year getting wiser and wiser. I shall not forget the teachers who have taught me the most, not only the material in books but about the pride and respect and ambition I have within me. I would like to say thank you to those teachers and also to Mr. Otero who may seem to be strict and intolerant but who is really warm, understanding, and caring deep down inside.

Faculty

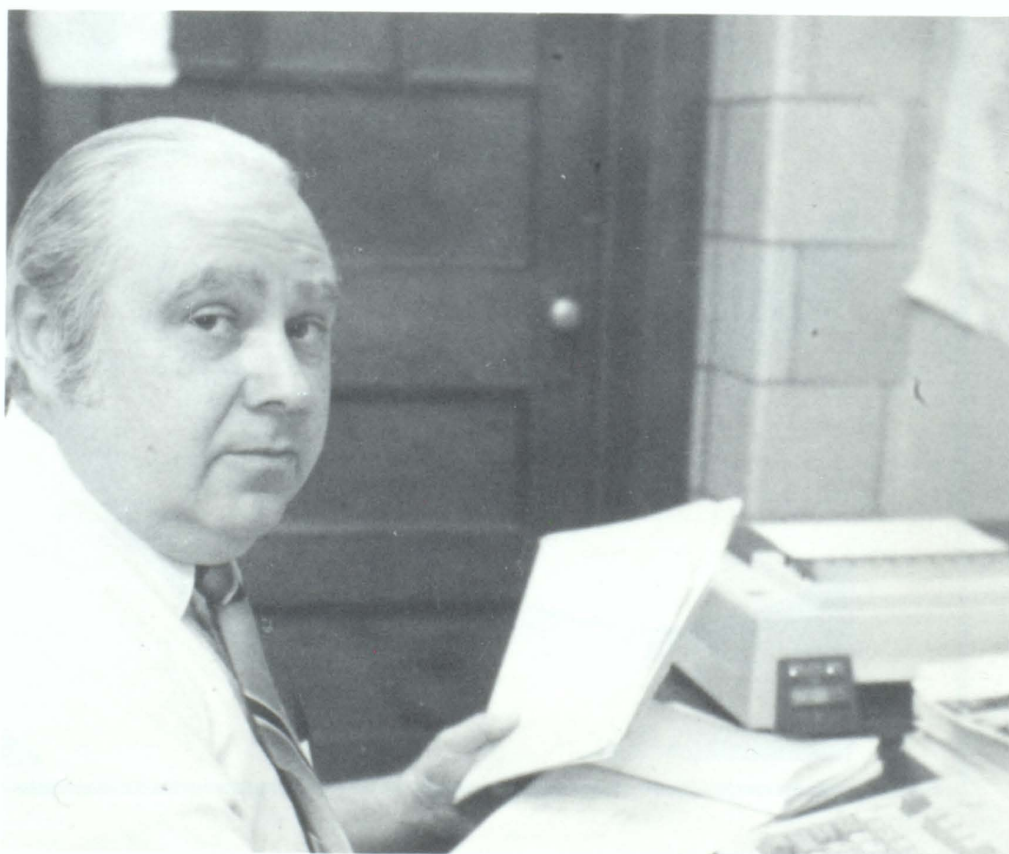

Mr. Hilton Otero Principal

We, the Senior Class of 1989, appreciate the educational values you have instilled in us for the past four years. You have helped us understand the importance of striving for excellence in order to achieve success. Mr. Otero, you have truly been an inspiring, and motivating role model in our lives.

Mr. Alfredo Gentile Vice-Principal

We, the Senior Class of 1989, are thankful to you for helping us realize the importance of managing our time wisely. Through your disciplinary standards, we have learned responsibility and punctuality. Your dedication and commitment will help us be well prepared for the future.

Ms. Eleta Caldwell, Art

Mr. Alex Colatrella, Athletics

Each department in our school has a significant role in the development of the students and faculty. Students can learn the importance of every subject in the curriculum. The department chairpersons and directors have an obligation to oversee that the students meet the educational and social requirements to become successful young adults.

The athletic department has been busy this past year preparing for next entry into the Colonial Hills Conference. They hope to raise the competitive level of the entire sports program to match the status the track and basketball teams currently enjoy. The future Arts H. S. athletic department promises to be challenging and exciting.

The mathematics department has placed emphasis on quality education by reinstituting an honors course. Our students have shown considerable gains in basic competency skills as reflected by standardized test scores. We were also able to provide a limited computer assisted science program.

The English department has added public speaking to the curriculum. Students are required to memorize specific material which will be presented to their peers each month. The English department continues to strive to create a well-rounded student who can read and write well.

The guidance department is continuing to help students strive for excellence and to make important career decisions by accessing information on colleges and careers from computers.

The art department is proud of the honors the students have brought to our school with their placement in local national competitions. This department had a most successful faculty exhibition. Art students and teachers exhibited a high degree of skill, quality and knowledge.

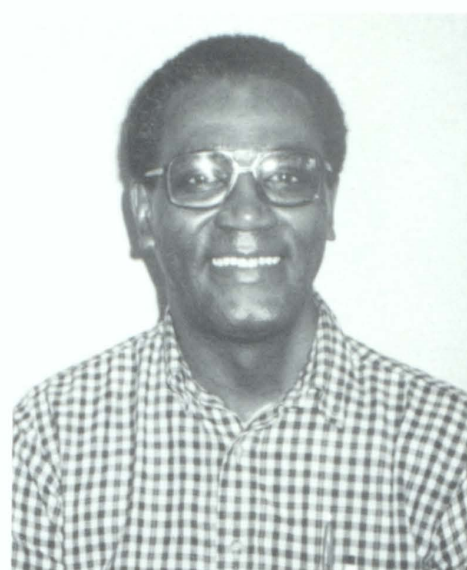

The performing arts continue to provide the community with quality performances in music and drama. The students have participated in the Teen Arts Festival, statewide competition, concerts, and drama productions, which help keep Arts High School students in the forefront.

Our senior class advisor, Mrs. Nettie Thomas, is proud to say "we did it!" She has helped us to increase the liason between our parents and ourselves in this our senior year. Mrs. Thomas has also given us guidance and helped us to come closer together as a senior class. Throughout this year and last year she has given us many opportunities and privileges, which we deeply appreciate.

Mr. Carden, we owe you a great deal of appreciation. You were very supportive of us even when we wanted to give up. Your dedication, guidance, loving care, and warmth we will always remember. Throughout our senior year, Mr. Carden, your encouragement, advice, creativity, and discipline helped us to create this year's issue of our yearbook. Thanks Mr. Carden, our yearbook advisor.

AUDITIONING FOR ARTS HIGH

The setting of this story is a school that looks like a big apartment building. I am driving right in front of the school, get out of the car and walk into the school.

I am standing in the hall of a school I have been in once before as a child. But now I have to audition to attend this school. I am all alone in a crowd of people I don't know. I have my tremendously long instrument. I am so nervous that I have to talk to someone to release my tension. I am now ready to just play and leave. Then the teachers in this apartment building for a school tell me and the other auditioners we have to wait in the auditorium. So now I am really ready to play and go. Now they tell me it is my turn to play. I enter this class and I begin to play. When I finish, the teacher tells me that now all I have to do is pass the written test. I pass the test and the rest is history.

The Breakfast Club

Period four, eleven o'clock
A table by the window
A club others try to mock
Four artists talking of their latest show
A birthday surprise every now and then
Some happy songs, better than a pub
So close, each of us a special friend
Too early for lunch, but we'll have a sub
Talking, laughing, singing, hope it lasts
The lady in white taking our money
Leftovers, rejects from the days that passed
The Thanksgiving gravy is awfully runny
So when you're near
And can't afford that sub
Our moment you'll hear
Drop by, we're the Breakfast Club.

Winter Fair was a big success!

On Friday, December 3, 1988, Arts High School's Winter Fair was a huge success. The entertainment was splendid and there were many creative items to see and buy.

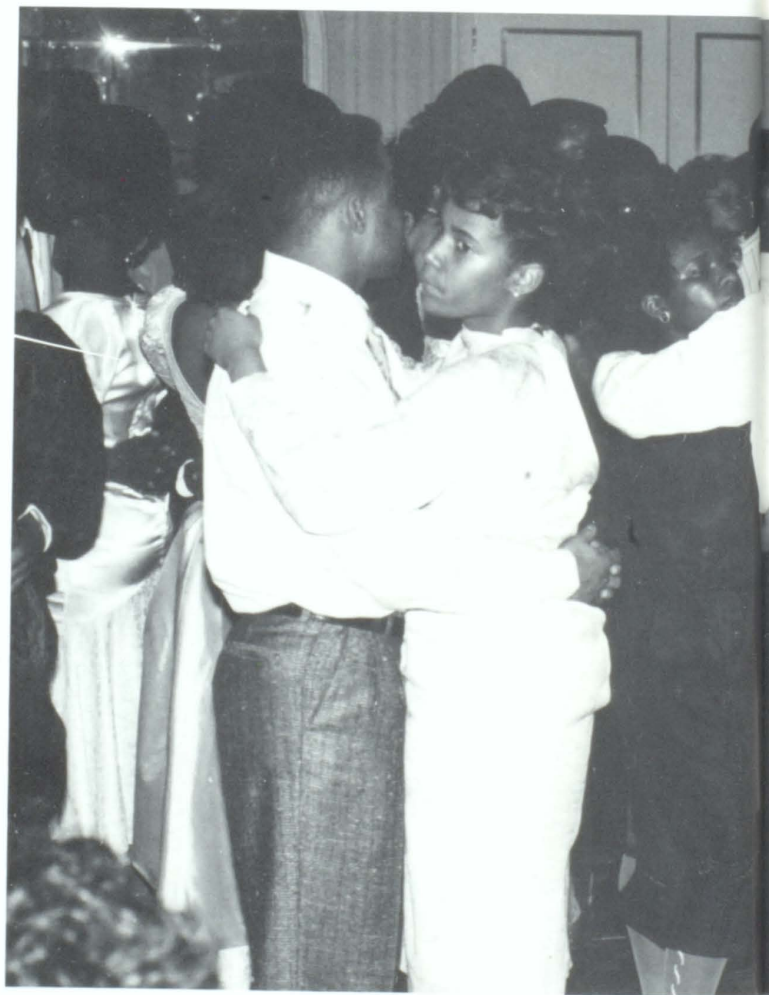

Wynton Marsalis inducted into TRI-M Music Honor Society as an honorary member.

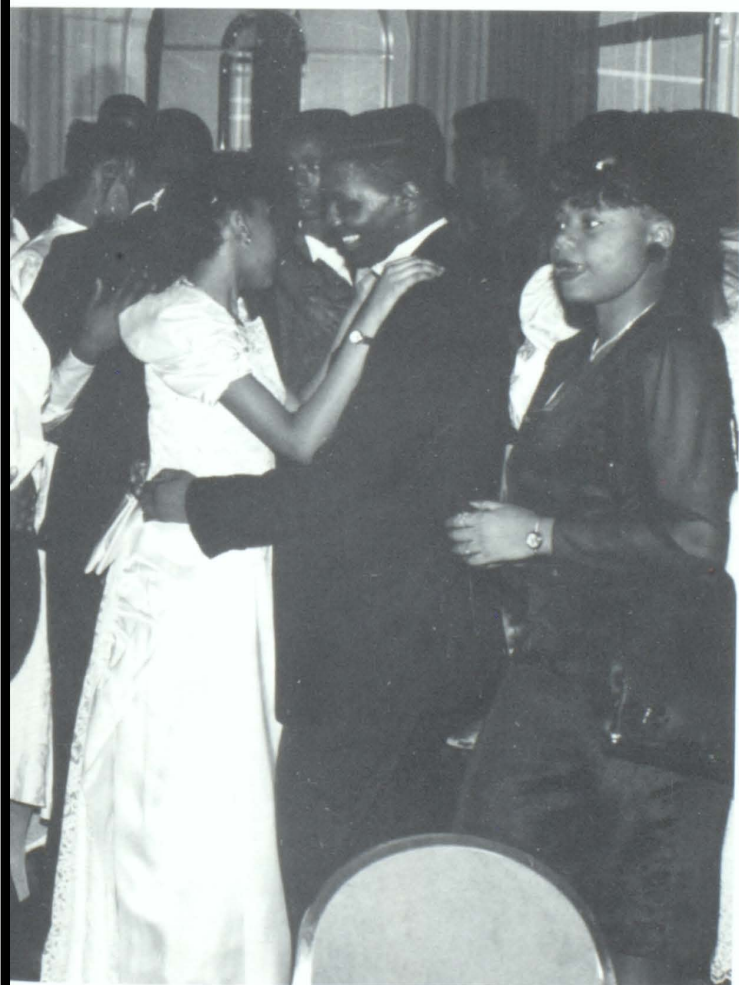

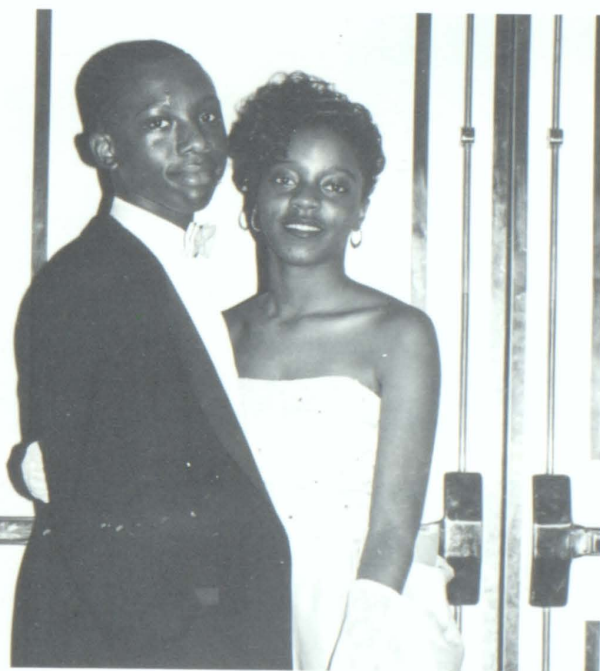

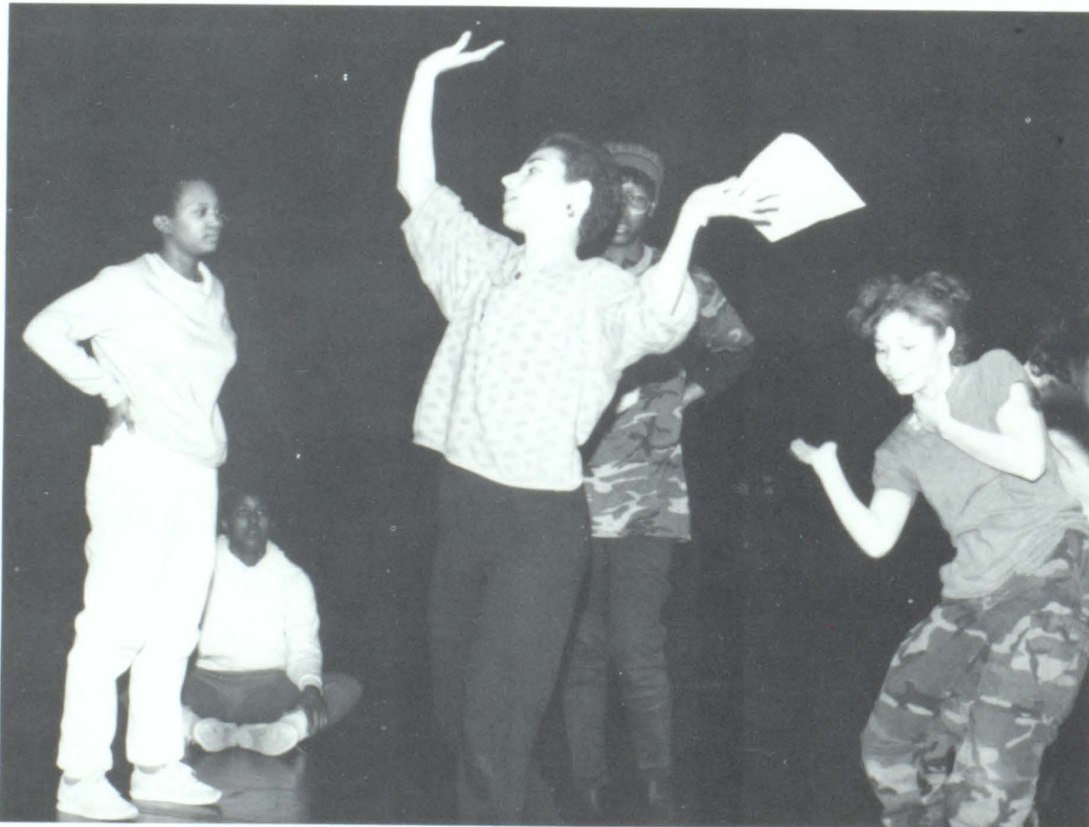

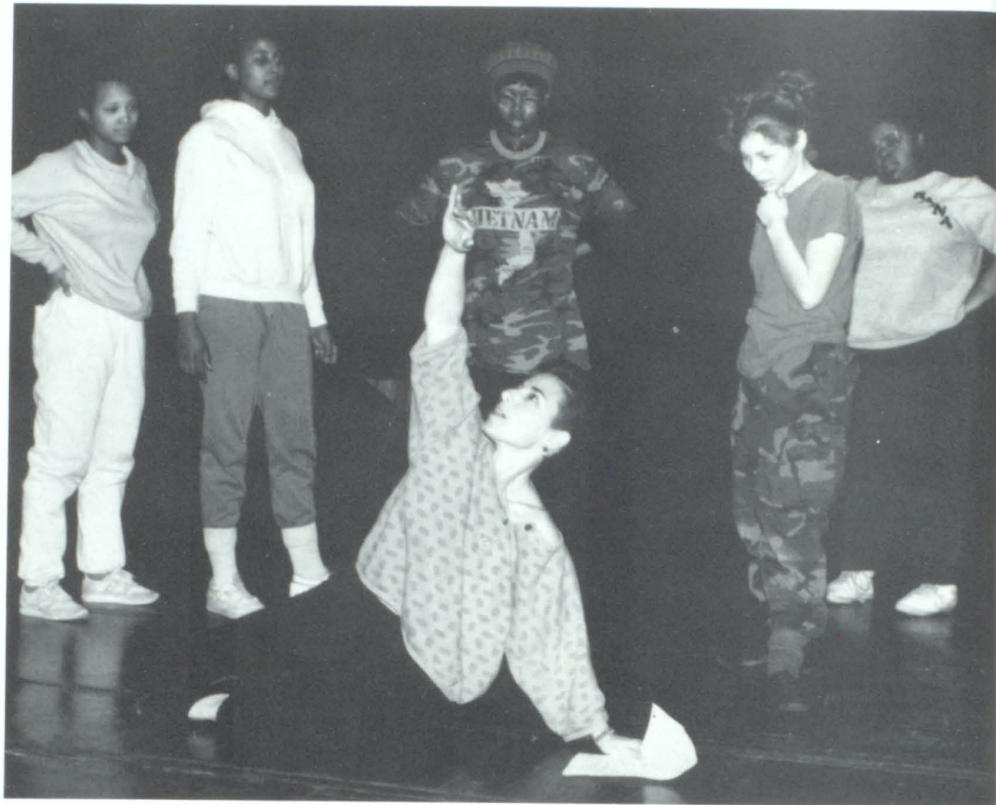

The famous jazz trumpet player Wynton Marsalis was invited to our school to be inducted into our Tri-M Music Honor Society. Before and after the induction ceremony, Mr. Marsalis performed for our entire music department.

A Relative Thing

We are the ones you sent to fight a war
You didn't know a thing about.

It didn't take us long to realize
The only land that we controlled
Was covered by the bottom of our boots.

When the newsmen said that naval ships
Had shelled a VC staging point,
We saw a breastless woman
And her stillborn child.

We watched ourselves become insensitive.
We laughed at old men stumbling in the dust
In frenzied terror to avoid our three-ton trucks.

We fought outnumbered in Hue City
While the ARVN soldiers looted bodies
In the safety of the rear.

The cookies from the wives of Local 104
Did not soften our awareness.

We have seen the "pacified" supporters
Of the Saigon government
Sitting in their jam-packed cardboard towns;
Their wasted hands placed limply in their laps;
Their empty bellies waiting for the rice
Some district chief has sold
For profit to the Viet Cong
We have seen Democracy on Zippo raids,
Burning hooches to the ground,
Driving eager Amtraks through a farmer's fields.

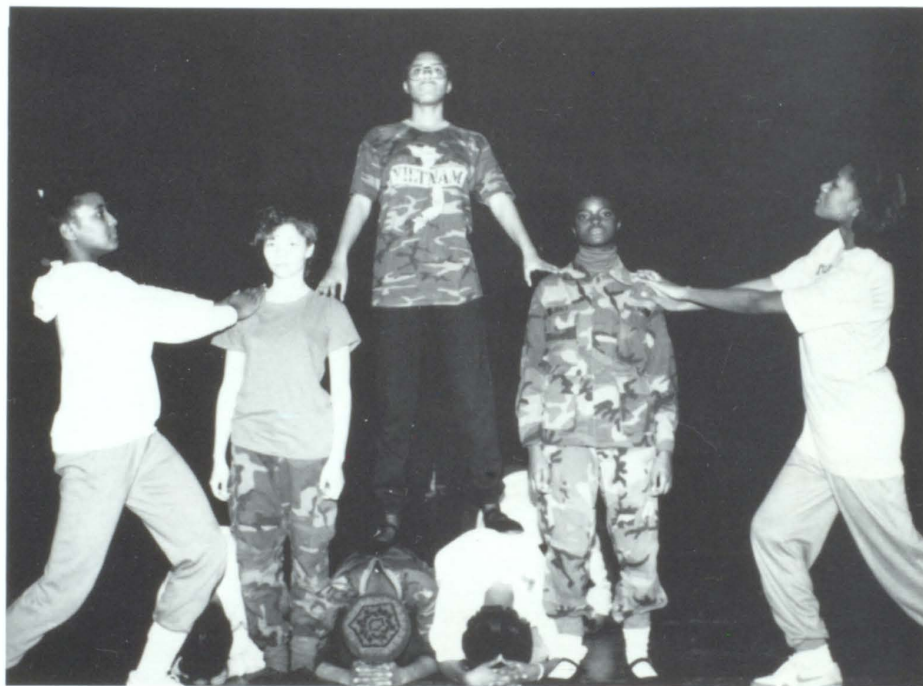

We are the ones who have to live
With the memory that we were the instruments
Of your pigeon-breasted fantasies.
We are inextricable accomplices
In this travesty of dreams:
But we are not alone.

We are the ones you sent to fight a war
You did not know a thing about.
Those of us that lived
Have tried to tell you what went wrong.
Now you think you do not have to listen.

Just because we will not fit
Into the uniforms of photographs
Of you at twenty-one
Does not mean you can disown us.

We are your sons, America,
And you cannot change that.
When you awake,
We will still be here.

We tried out for the team without having a lot of knowledge.
At practice, the coaches began to whip us into shape.
The first game was upon us before we knew it.
The coaches prepared us very well for the first game.
We won! We began to practice for the next game.
It was much better.
We learned to have fun when we practiced.
We began to get familiar with the plays.
There were two games left in the season.
The third game was the best!
We were a unit!
The season was almost over.
But we finally learned what the coaches were telling us.
The coaches gave us a lot of knowledge.
We had to pick it up in a very short time.
The last game in the season had arrived.
The game had just begun and we were up at bat.

The Girls' Basketball Team completed a highly successful season this past year. With a record of 19-5, the team finished 5th in Essex County. The team also reached the quarter finals of the county and the semi-finals of the state tournaments. Senior members Shalene Drinkard (Captain and 4 year starter) and Tawana Clyburn led the way. Shalene finished her career with 1,022 points, making her the second leading girls' scorer in the school's history. Her 625 career assists set a school record. Shalene and Tawana's talents and leadership abilities will be missed.

The Measure Of Truth

Truth is an awesome thing.
It leads the mind into
Unexplored pathways of understanding.
It coaxes the heart of purity of motive.
It stimulates faith with new reasons.
It frees love from the bondage of self.
It cleanses the soul for a new beginning.
It reaches into chaos and pulls out order.
It gives eyes to the blind soul.
It takes a day, and makes it the day!
It takes tomorrow and makes it now.
It promises freedom, but exacts discipline.
It challenges the whole being in thought,
Word, and deed.
To think, speak, and act for life,
That we might live the life.
This is the measure of truth.

CONGRATULATIONS TO ED JOHNSON

The world is one large theatre.
Choose the part you want to play and play it well.
Love Always,
Aunt Helen and Uncle Victor

Remember, only your best will turn into success

To Ed Johnson

Set your goals high.
If the mind can conceive it,
The body can achieve it.

Lovingly,
Nana

To Ed J.

This is what Edward means to me:

Enthusiastic Dedicated Warm Artistic Realistic Determined

I'm proud to be both Mother and friend
I'll be here from beginning to end

Through all the good and the bad
When you're happy and when you're sad

Keep striving for the very best
And surely you'll achieve the rest

I'm sure you'll do well in college
Because you have a thirst for knowledge

You have the determination and drive
That's what it takes in life to survive

Never change the way you are
In my eyes you'll always be a star

Remember this one phrase
Conceive it, Believe it, Achieve it!

Love Always,
Mommy

Chapter 1811
would like to congratulate the class of 1989.

Remember that in order to succeed in life you must WORK.

Use your creative talent and intelligence given to you by the Heavenly Father
and you will succeed in the future.
